8.3 The recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal information may be supplied

HASA may share the personal information of data subjects for any of the purposes outlined above with the following:

- Hyundai Automotive South Africa Proprietary Limited;
- HASA authorised dealerships, rental companies and motor-related financial services;
- any operators who perform services on behalf of HASA;
- any applicable medical aid funds, pension funds, provident funds, credit bureau, and/or recruitment companies;

- other industry regulators in order to comply with any regulation passed under the relevant legislation, or any legal process.

If HASA is the responsible party for personal information that is to be shared, before the personal information is shared by HASA, HASA will conclude a written contract with the operator requiring that the operator establishes and maintains appropriate technological and organisational measures to protect against unauthorised access or processing of the personal and against loss of, damage to and the unauthorised destruction of personal information.

8.4 Planned transborder flows of personal information

HASA will only transfer personal information across South African borders to foreign countries, if necessary to comply with legislation, the transfer is necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract of which data subjects may be parties, protects the legitimate interest of the data subject, or is necessary for HASA to pursue its legitimate interests, or that of a third party to which the data is supplied.

Before transferring personal information across a South African border to a foreign country HASA will take steps to ensure that recipients of transborder personal information are bound by laws or agreements that provide an adequate level of protection and uphold principles for reasonable and lawful processing of personal information, in terms of POPIA.

If HASA relies on the legitimate interest of a data subject, prior to transferring personal information cross border, it will conduct a legitimate interest assessment.

8.5 Security Safeguards

HASA complies with POPIA in protecting the integrity and confidentiality of personal information. In doing so it has due regard to generally accepted information security practices and procedures.

9. Data subject access to personal information

9.1 Request procedure in terms of PAIA

Any individual or interested party (hereafter called requestor) may in terms of Section 50 of PAIA request access to records held by HASA.

To request access to a record of HASA, a requester must complete the form annexed to this manual marked "A."

A requester must provide sufficient detail on the prescribed form to allow HASA to identify the record or records which have been requested and the identity of the requester. If a request is made on behalf of another person or entity, the requester must submit details and proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request, which must be reasonably satisfactory to HASA. The requester is also required to indicate the form of access to the relevant records that is required, and to provide his, her or its contact details in the Republic of South Africa.

The requester must identify the right that he, she or it is seeking to exercise by accessing records held by HASA and must explain why the particular record or records requested is or are required for the exercise or protection of that right.

HASA may, and must in certain instances, refuse access to records on any of the grounds set out in Chapter 4 of Part 3 of PAIA which include: that access would result in the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about a third party, that it is necessary to protect the commercial information of a third party or of HASA itself, that it is necessary to protect the confidential information of a third party, that it is necessary to protect the safety of individuals or property, that a record constitutes privileged information for the purpose of legal proceedings, and that it is necessary to protect the research information of a third party or HASA itself. Access to documents may also be refused based on professional privilege.

HASA is required to inform a requester in writing of its decision in relation to a request. If the requester wishes to be informed of HASA' decision in another manner as well, this must be set out in the request and the relevant details included, to allow HASA to inform the requester in the preferred manner.

HASA will make a decision in relation to a request for records within 30 days of receiving it, unless third parties are required to be notified of the request or the 30-day period is extended as provided for in PAIA. HASA will notify the requester if the 30-day period for processing a request is to be extended.

Where a request is refused, a requester may lodge a complaint in writing with the Information Regulator, or apply to the High Court within 180 days of being informed of the refusal of the request, for an order compelling the record or records requested to be made available to the requester or for another appropriate order. The Court will determine whether the records should be made available or not.

10. Fees payable

The South African Human Rights Commission is responsible for administering the constitutional right of access to information. It has published a "Guide on How to Use the Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000" ("Guide"). This includes the fees payable by requestors to enable access to information. To ensure that the fees payable for a request are current, you are referred to the Guide that you can access at https://www.gov.za/sites/default/files/gcis_documents/SAHRC-PAIA-guide2014.pdf. The information officer, whose contact details are available at 3 of this manual will assist you if required.

11. Other information as prescribed

The Minister has not prescribed that any further information must be contained in this manual.
